

Revenge of the Amazons

By J. Betts & W. Shakespeare

Revenge of the Amazons is a pantomime romp through a feminist Shakespearean's dream. A women's theatre group tries to persuade Hippolyta not to marry, and Oberon falls in love with a feminist bunny girl.

Written for fun, mostly to provide more comic parts for women and a better share of the famous lines. "The bard may well be turning in his grave, not because of the liberties taken with his play, but because he is laughing as helplessly as the audience did" - Evening Post

Reading: 23 November 2010 - 7pm
Auditions: 8 & 9 December 2010 - 7pm
Performances: 2 to 5 March 2011 - 7:30pm

Road

By Jim Cartwright

Join Scullery, your rum-soaked guide, for a journey along Road. This modern classic retains the same power and relevance it had when it first appeared 25 years ago.

By turns brutal, poignant, scabrous and incredibly funny, it is Under Milk Wood transposed to Lancashire and tanked up on cheap cider.

This truly theatrical piece of work takes the audience by the throat and doesn't let go until their teeth rattle.

Reading: 17 January 2011 - 7pm
Auditions: 24 & 25 January 2011 - 7pm
Performances: 13 to 16 April 2011 - 7:30pm

Romeo & Juliet

By William Shakespeare

From the team that brought the acclaimed 2009 production of A Midsummer Night's Dream, 2011 goes further with a powerful and spectacular reworking of Shakespeare's most enduring and tragic love story.

This visually stunning production, with a filmic, blockbuster feel to it is a must-see for next summer. Romeo & Juliet teach us that a rose by any other name would smell as sweet, but a rose has thorns.

Because love hurts.

Reading: 22 March 2011 - 7pm
Auditions: 29 & 30 March 2011 - 7pm
Performances: 29 June to 2 July 2011
and 5 to 8 July 2011 - 7:30pm

Who we are

Our amateur company started life as the Southern Railway Dramatic Society (SRDS) in 1939.

Having celebrated our 70th anniversary recently, we are still going strong.

Our theatre is leased from Network Rail and we thank them for their continued support.

What we do

We produce a wide range of theatre from classic plays to new writing, from comedy to drama, mixed media and musicals.

Past Network Theatre Company productions have also been seen at the Edinburgh Fringe, The Rosemary Branch in Islington, the Prague Fringe Festival and Riverside Studios in Hammersmith.

We also organise regular social events, workshops and play readings, so it's a great way of meeting new friends and keeping in touch with old ones.

Want to get involved?

Members and non-members alike are welcome to read or audition for a part. You will however need to be a member to participate in a production.

We receive no grants or subsidies.

Our survival depends on sales income and membership subscriptions, so to become a member, you will have to pay a small annual fee - just £25.

We don't just want performers - we also welcome directors, backstage team (e.g. costume, props, lighting, sound, stage crew) and people willing to help out front of house with the box office and bar.

We are a friendly and relaxed group and don't believe in holding nerve-wracking auditions in order for you to join.

We hope to see you at Network Theatre soon

Network Theatre is a rare gem, an amateur theatre in Central London, the home of the Network Theatre Company. It is a private members club licensed for entertainment. Non-members must register as guests.

Our licensed bar opens before and after the show, and in the interval.
