

A Network Theatre Company production

at Network Theatre, Lower Road

Class

by Kirsty Eyre / directed by Kirsty Eyre

CLASS

Written & directed by Kirsty Eyre

Performances:

17/07/2007 - 21/07/2007

Reading: 26/04/2007 19:00

Audition: 01/05/2007 18:30

Audition: 03/05/2007 18:30

CLASS, a box office sell-out success at Network Theatre in 2006, returns to Network Theatre this summer in preparation for hitting the Edinburgh Fringe (with Class Stage Productions at www.class-stage.co.uk).

Class is a downmarket strip-joint run by struggling entrepreneur, Nigel, whose whole life is a lie. Can he convince the über-classy Elise that he runs his mate's award winning art restaurant? Can he convince his mate that he's not knocking off his waitress? And can he convince Elise to marry him? After all, she's so much better than him. Does an understanding of dinner etiquette and a good education give you a green card to 'class' regardless of whether you cheat or lie? And just who exactly is lying? All is revealed at C to the L to the ASS. CLASS!